Trooper Slain

Minister Kills Bandit

SELLERSBURG, Ind. (AP) — A Methodist pastor avenged the murder of his state trooper friend Monday afternoon by blasting a bank bandit to death in a gun duel.

The Rev. Robert W. Gingery, pastor of Trinity Methodist church in New Albany, Ind., shot and killed William Hassett, 25, Louisville, Ky., at a police blockade near here.

Hassett moments before had shot and killed state police Sgt. Marvin Walts, 47, who had stopped the bandit for questioning in the $1,655 robbery of the Sellersburg, Ind., State Bank.

Gingery, 37, whose steady calm broke down shortly after the shooting, was given sedation and placed under a doctor's care to-day.

The minister said Walts, a close friend and parishioner, had stopped a car carrying a man who answered the bank bandit's description. Walts radioed headquarters with the information.

A short time later, Gingery reported over the police radio: "Marvin has been shot and I have killed the bank robber."

Gingery said Walts, a 20-year state police veteran, who was due to retire next year, had joined his congregation two years ago and was a deeply religious man.

Walts had made it a habit to invite the pastor out for lunch and a ride in his car on the anniversary of joining the church, Gingery said. Monday was the second anniversary date.

The shooting occurred only about 10 minutes after Hassett had held up five women employees in the Sellersburg bank. He scooped up about $1,655 and fled in a car. The loot was recovered.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

CECIL FROHOCK, Harrisburg, employed in the offices of the Sahara Coal Co., underwent an operation recently they wouldn't have thought of doing five years ago.

And in spite of the seriousness and rarity of the operation, Mr. Frohock is getting around the house and will be going back to work one of these days soon.

He had a serious condition in his legs. There was a 75 per cent block in the arteries in one leg, with practically no pulse, and a 30 per cent block in the other.

He went to Barnes hospital in St. Louis and the report shows he underwent surgery called endarterectomy of the abdominal aorta and the common iliac arteries.

That means that the surgery was to the great trunk artery and to the arteries that branch off and run down the legs. The surgeon opened up these arteries and cleaned out fat that had blocked off the circulation into his legs.

"I didn't have hardening of the arteries and no artery was replaced," Mr. Frohock was telling me. "There was no blood clot—it was fat in the arteries that had to come out. Five years ago they wouldn't have attempted such an operation but now they can do it successfully. The pulse is perfect in my legs now."

EDUCATION DEPT.: A mother took her seven-year-old daughter to a very progressive school. Among the questions asked was this: "Are you a little boy or a little girl?" "I'm a boy," the girl replied.

The teacher scolded the mother by saying the child was psychologically confused and should be placed with a group of problem children.

On the way home the mother said:

"Darling, why did you say you were a little boy?"

The daughter gave her mother a long look and said:

"When anybody asks me a dumb question, I give a dumb answer."

LITTLE EDITORIAL: During a traffic snarl, a hornblower began blasting his horn. A man in a car alongside looked over and politely inquired, "And what else did you get for Christmas?"

Charges Auto Finance Gouging

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Better Business Bureau official said today that some auto finance sharks are gouging 600 per cent interest from unwary car buyers.

John L. O'Brien, Akron, Ohio, Better Business Bureau president, said car purchasers are often "swindled out of thousands of dollars" through various finance company kick-backs—or "packs"—to auto dealers.

O'Brien said in a statement prepared for the Senate Auto Marketing subcommittee that some auto buyers are forced to pay "astronomical interest rates" when they try to pay up time-loans rapidly. He said they may get only a few dollars in rebates.

O'Brien said hidden overcharges and auto finance gouging have reached the proportions of a "great national scandal."

He said only 15 states and the District of Columbia have any form of legal control over the methods of auto financing.

Senate Group Approves Bond Plan for State Institutions

Quiz Brewster About Teamster 'Special Fund'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Rackets Committee said today nearly $100,000 was withdrawn from Seattle Teamsters Union local for a "special fund" which does not exist.

But West Coast Teamsters boss Frank W. Brewster swore the fund did exist once. He said it was used for political contributions. Asked whether $4,000 of it was used as a down payment on his house, he said he could not remember.

Brewster, president of the 11-state Western Conference of the giant Teamsters Union, was indicted Monday on charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions last January before another Senate committee. He was being quizzed today by the new Senate Rackets Committee to pave the way for later questioning of Teamsters President Dave Beck. He couldn't remember.

The committee questioned Brewster about his horse racing activities. He testified:

"The union spent $2,670 in 1954 and 1955 for boxes at California racetracks."

"He hired the horse trainer at his 'Needmore Stables,' Mel Eisen, as a $150-a-week union organizer in the Los Angeles area."

"He could not remember why he spent $750 in union money on one occasion for his jockey, Richard Cavallero, and Eisen."

"The committee's picture of his use of union money 'isn't good.'"

"He would hire an auditor to figure out what he owes the union and will pay the money back."

Was Political Fund Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said $99,999.65 was drawn from Seattle's big Teamster Local 174 from June, 1950 to November, 1953. Brewster said he was secretary-treasurer of the local at the time.

Kennedy said the checks were made out to "Local 174 Special Fund" in the Seattle First National Bank.

"We have checked and found there is no special fund," Kennedy said.

Brewster said there was such a special fund for 10 years before 1953.

"It was a political fund, to be spent on candidates that Claude O'Reilly was in favor of, with approval of the executive board," the Teamster leader said.

O'Reilly, once president of Local 174, died April 14, 1952.

Winter Blankets Five-State Area With Snow; Spring Only Day Away

By United Press

Winter fired a snow-laden parting shot at the Midwest today, blanketing a five-state area with as much as 16 inches of snow.

Although spring is only a day away, residents of Sioux Falls, S. D., dug out from under a 16-inch snowfall. A foot of snow piled up at Richland Center, Wis., Monday night and more than a half foot buried sections of Nebraska, northern Iowa and southern Minnesota.

At least 13 deaths were blamed on the rain and snow storm which swept from Texas to the Great Lakes. Five persons were killed in Texas three in traffic and two by drowning and five persons died near Carmel, Ind., when a sports car skidded on a rain-slicked highway into another car. Three traffic fatalities blamed on the storm occurred in Nebraska.

The storm was welcome to farmers in drought-stricken sections of South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa, however, bringing needed moisture for spring crops.

A gentle rain soaked southern Iowa Monday, but turned to snow in the north. About 100 schools in a nine-county area of northwestern Iowa were closed because of the snow and two games of the state high school basketball tournament were postponed. Highway workers said snow drifted back onto the road behind snow plows.

Northern Illinois and Indiana were soaked with up to a half inch of rain during a six-hour period Monday night.

Rain and drizzle also was reported through the Ohio Valley and south to the Atlantic Coast.

Provides $238 Million Welfare, College Building

Measure Will Get Hearing by Senate as Whole

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Senate Executive Committee today recommended passage of Gov. William G. Stratton's $238-million-dollar bond issue proposal for construction at state welfare institutions and colleges.

But the committee approved the bill only with the understanding that it get a hearing by the full Senate in committee of the whole so that amendments to increase the amount of the bond issue might be submitted.

Sen. Dennis J. Collins (R-De Kalb) said he would move to increase the amount in the bond issue to be given to the state teachers colleges from 30 million dollars to 50 million.

Sen. William J. Connors (D-Chicago) said he would have an amendment to increase the bond issue to 300 million dollars, with the additional money to go to welfare institutions.

Collins said he believed Northern Illinois State College at De Kalb, for one, should get a greater share of the money.

$41 Million For SU

Sen. Marshall Korshak (D-Chicago) said he would like to see the bond issue provide funds for a permanent four year branch of the University of Illinois in Chicago.

H. O. Farber, U. of I. vice president, said the bond issue figure of 238 million dollars provided only for a permanent two year branch in Chicago.

The bond issue as proposed by Stratton would provide 86 million dollars for the U. of I., 81 million for welfare institutions, 41 million for Southern Illinois University and 30 million for the four teachers colleges.

William W. Downey, the governor's aide, told the committee the figures were arrived at after consultations with the institutions involved.

Budgetary Commission Chairman Everett R. Peters (R-St. Joseph) said it was necessary to settle on a figure that would be approved by the voters in a referendum.

Other Resolutions Approved The committee refused to approve a bill to create a commission to draft a judicial reform amendment.

It recommended passage of a bill to increase the size of the Youth Commission from three members to five.

Also approved were resolutions to provide for a study of mass transportation problems in the Chicago metropolitan area, and to ask Congress to study the possibilities for channelizing the Wabash River and redeveloping the Big Muddy river area in southern Illinois.

A number of pieces in the new furnishings have not yet arrived here and the new office is not yet complete, the aide said.

Delusions of Grandeur

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The Egyptians and the Arab refugees in the Gaza strip are hardly celebrating the departure of Israeli troops from Egypt in what might be called commendable fashion.

Arabs in Gaza rioted and threw stones at U. N. emergency forces which have supplanted the Israeli. President Nasser of Egypt told students that Arab nationalism "liberated" the Gaza strip and will help "win back all of Palestine." He still refuses to allow Israeli ships to use the Suez Canal when it is fully in use again, and is being stubborn on the issue of Suez tolls to be paid by users. In addition, he stirred up a storm of protest when he tried to take over civil control of the Gaza strip soon after the Israelis withdrew.

Admittedly, all this is in character for Nasser.

He brashly falsified the facts of last fall's Israeli-Egyptian combat in a vain effort to conceal the defeat that befell his troops in the Sinai desert. He tried to blame British bombs for the sabotage of the canal pulled off by his agents.

Now, presumably, he would like to enter Gaza as a conquering hero. The truth is he couldn't budge the Israeli from the strip. They got out only after heavy pressures from the United States and the U. N.

Seldom has so little a man tried to look so big. His talents are frail and his accomplishments invisible even to the microscope.

Yet he talks as if he were a combination of Alexander the Great and Abraham Lincoln.

Only the fact that he stands astride Suez in the oil-rich Middle East compels the world to take note of his ridiculous posturings. In some other less-strategic sector of the globe he would be judged as hardly up to belt-level with that other dictatorial absurdity, the now deposed Juan Peron of Argentina.

Nasser's control of Suez undeniably gives him powerful bargaining leverage. Any time he wants to revert to "bad boy" tactics he can block the canal again.

But the U. N. is not helpless.

Its forces occupy key parts of Egypt in the aftermath of the 1956 Israeli-British-French attacks.

The U. N. may be reluctant to yield the soil it now polices until the world has some believable assurances that Egypt will manage the canal for the good of all, and will, with its Arab partners, adopt a "live and let live" policy toward Israel.

Given a pass by the U. N., Nasser still struts today. But people have a way of catching up with strutters who play to the crowd but never deliver the real goods. The time may come when he'll have to run.

Sun, Sand, Taxes

A Miami Beach hotel, in an advertisement aimed at luring businessmen southward, said "the reconditioning of executives is a tax-deductible expense." The word "reconditioning" stirred Congress, which in turn stirred the Internal Revenue Service.

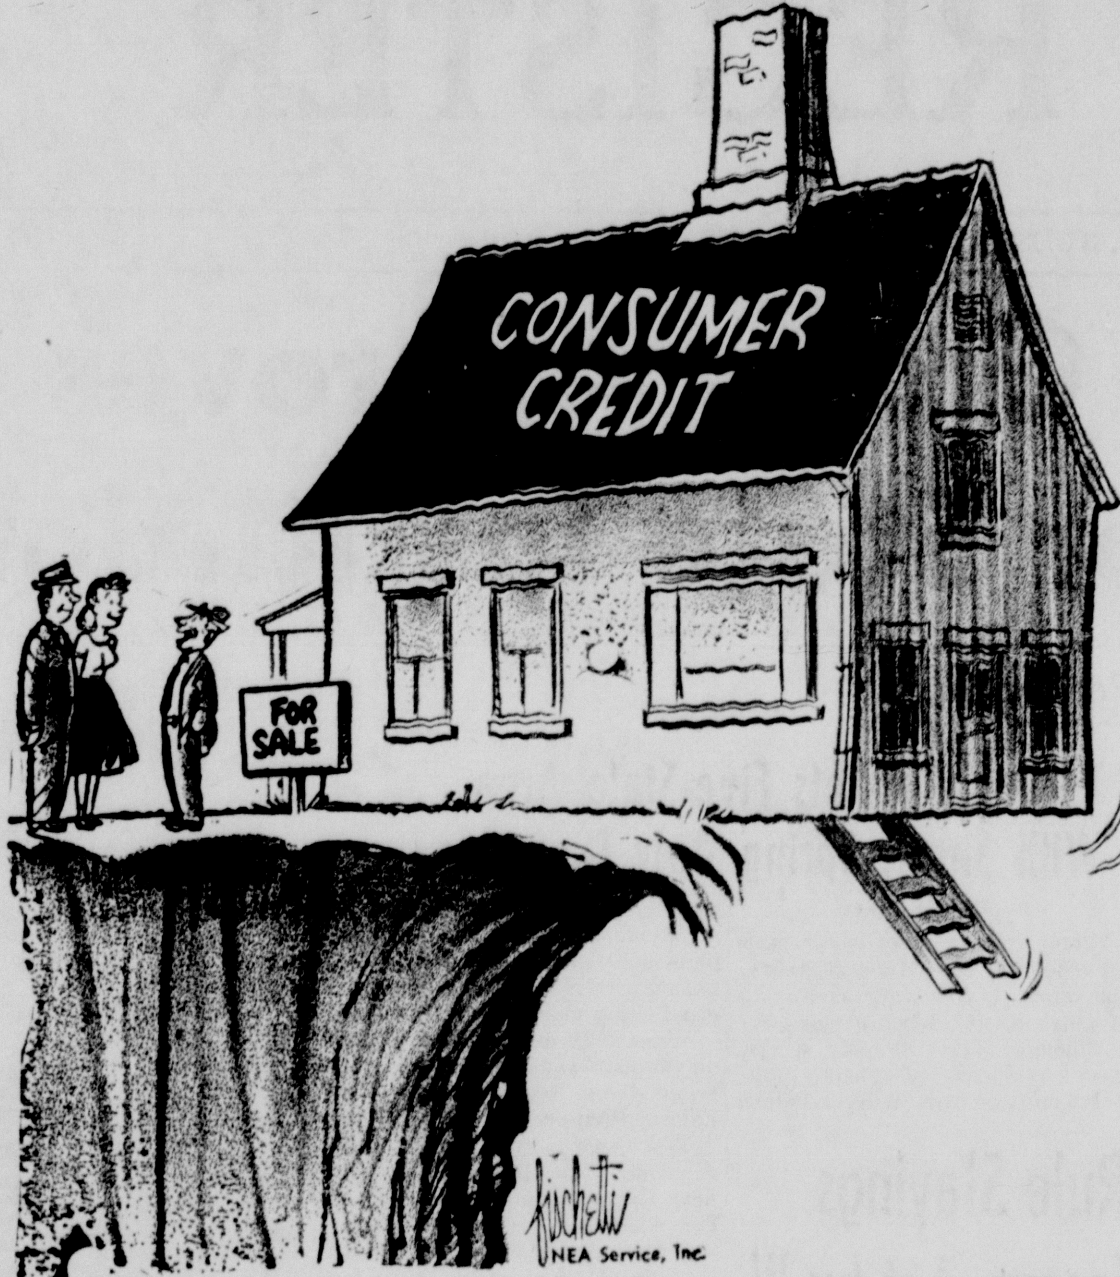

Said the bureau: Vacation or athletic club expenses run up in the process of keeping fit are not tax deductible, even though they may help a man's general health.

That doesn't mean that no health expenses of a "reconditioning" sort are deductible. If a doctor signs a statement that a trip to a sunny clime is vital to mend a broken bone or ease the strain on an ailing heart, the IRS takes a different attitude.

What the agency wants to make plain, evidently, is that come April 15 you can't write off last year's suntan.

The professional expenses of doctors in the United States increased from $7,756 per year in 1947 to $8,985 per year in 1955.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Dave Beck Was Probably Delighted At Jimmy Hoffa's Arrest; Greek Shipping Magnate Onassis Faces Congressional Probe In Tankers; It Pays To Have Oil Friends In High Places.

WASHINGTON. — The ramifications of Teamster union politics is almost as complicated as the rivalries and jealousies of Washington society.

For instance, there is probably no one secretly happier over the hot water in which dapper, dashing Jimmy Hoffa now finds himself than the head of the Teamsters, Dave Beck.

Beck would never admit this. In fact, he stated just the opposite. Nevertheless, Beck has been sore as a boil over the manner in which Hoffa has been nudging him for the No. 1 spot in the gigantic Teamsters union.

Some teamsters are even so unkind as to say that the story of Dave Beck's house and its sale for $163,000 to the Teamsters, was suggested to Beck by the Hoffa faction, then deliberately leaked to the press.

The member of the Teamsters' executive council who proposed in secret session that the Teamsters buy Beck's house was Sidney Brennan of Minneapolis, convicted under the Taft-Hartley Act for taking money from an employer to cross a picket line against a strike called by John L. Lewis' District 50.

The Teamster official credited with leaking the story of the house purchase was Tom Hickey of New York, later engaged in a knock-down battle with Teamster John O'Rourke, Governor Dewey's former labor campaign manager. Both Beck and Hoffa hate Hickey, have now shunted him to the sidelines. Whether he or someone else leaked this story about the bizarre purchase of Beck's swank home with heated swimming pool, will never be known; the Teamster high command plays its cards too close to its chest.

Not so close to their chests has been the rivalry between Beck and Hoffa. When John Herlong, labor specialist for the Washington News, published a story two years ago which began: "Dave Beck has been dethroned as undisputed head of America's largest union," Beck hit the ceiling. He called a special press conference, told newsmen in no uncertain terms that he was boss of the Teamsters and would continue to be boss.

Actually there was a great deal of truth in Herlong's story. It marked the beginning of the ascendancy of the tough little Teamster from Detroit who began as a grocery clerk and who has taken over more and more power in the far-flung Teamsters union.

It also marked one of the more intense chapters of the silent but very bitter Hoffa-Beck feud—all of it watched with a mixture of amusement and alarm by other labor leaders who have tried to keep unions clean.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis is in for a congressional probe. Onassis plans to build four new tankers with a loan from the Maritime Administration, promising to place the new tankers under the trusteeship of his American-citizen children to guarantee that they will be available to this country in case of war. However, Congressman Herbert Zelenko of New York claims the trust is riddled with loopholes, and Congressman Bonner of North Carolina plans to investigate.

Ex-Chairman Len Hall is really burnt up because he hasn't yet offered him a top job. He wants a top-level position to keep himself in the limelight before running for governor of New York

... The FBI is quietly investigating the office of Pennsylvania's Congressman Dan Flood for allegedly passing out classified information. The charge was brought to the FBI by a disgruntled former secretary of the congressman who claims Flood's office told unauthorized people facts from secret hearings. ... The Earl of Home, British delegate to the SEATO Conference, bluntly warned Secretary of State Dulles that the British will be forced to reduce their military forces in Southeast Asia and may even close down their air bases on the strategic Malay Peninsula. This would mean the U. S. A. would lose more ships and planes to the Far East.

ROADBLOCKS TO PIPELINE

Here's another illustration of how it pays to have friends in high places—especially when it comes to oil.

Two independent oil men, Lowell Glasgow and Bert Hull of Texas, proposed running a pipeline from West Texas and New Mexico to California. There is about a million barrels of oil daily bottled up around the El Paso area which could relieve the oil deficit in California if piped there. That state imports about 270,000 barrels daily. In time of war this oil deficit would be serious, might paralyze California industry.

Glasgow and Hull found great interest for their project, plus financial backing—provided they could get a certificate of essentiality from the government. This certificate from the Treasury Department, permitting fast tax write-offs, is given after the Defense Department certifies to the Treasury that the project is essential to the national defense.

At this point the two independent oil men ran into opposition. The independent oil companies around Texas and New Mexico were strong for the pipeline, but the major oil companies which supply oil to California were opposed. They have wells in Saudi Arabia, Java, Sumatra and various parts of Asia, plus tanker fleets. So the oil they import into California means as much profit for them as the oil they pump in California.

When Glasgow and Hull went to the Defense Department to get an O. K. for their certificate of necessity, they got nowhere.

The officials who helped pass on it included W. W. White, former vice-president of Esso Standard Oil, who now has gone back to Esso, and Hugh Stewart, formerly of the Texas Company. Both Texas and Standard of New Jersey are part owners of the Arabian-American Oil Company.

Director of SIU Christian Foundation Resigns

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The Rev. Donald B. Johnson, director of the Student Christian Foundation at Southern Illinois University, has resigned to accept a pastorate at Community church in Carmel Valley, Calif. He will leave early in April.

D. Wayne Rowland, SIU assistant professor of journalism, will serve as acting director this summer until a new permanent director is appointed, according to Rev. Charles Howe, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Carbondale and chairman of the Foundation's executive committee.

During his four and one-half years as Student Christian Foundation director, Rev. Johnson was instrumental in acquiring a building site for a new student Christian center at the northeast entrance to the SIU campus. The Foundation's original building on University Avenue was purchased by the University.

As Southern's enrollment has increased, Rev. Johnson has expanded the Foundation's program for students to include Sunday morning worship services and a Sunday evening supper club. He also has taught courses in religion and helped establish a minor in religion at SIU. Financial support for the Foundation comes from individuals, area churches representing several Protestant denominations, and other agencies.

Public Aid Costs Higher

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Public aid costs rose again, to $13,311,915 for 291,343 recipients, in January, it was reported today.

The January expenditures and caseload compared to $13,073,043 for 280,885 persons in December and $12,646,040 for 280,751 persons in January, 1956, the Public Aid Commission announced.

Public aid expenditures and caseloads in the face of growing prosperity are being investigated by a special legislative committee, and it has been disclosed that Gov. William G. Stratton plans to shift a larger share of relief costs to local governments in order to avoid a sales tax increase.

The Public Aid Commission is seeking a 367 million dollar budget for the coming two years, and already has received an emergency deficiency appropriation of 30 million dollars to meet its obligations through June 30.

Costs and caseloads for the various aid programs in January were: General relief, $3,174,426 for 87,842 persons; old age assistance, $5,500,818 for 88,712 persons; blind assistance, $236,699 for 3,433 persons; disability assistance, $812,736 for 10,287 persons; and aid to dependent children, $3,587,236 for 14,707 children.

Record Number Of Jobs Off Farm in Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — Jobs off the farm set a record for mid-February in Illinois, State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins reported today.

He said there were 3,466,500 persons working in the state at the middle of last month, the highest mid-February non-agricultural employment in Illinois history.

The mid-February total was up 200 from mid-January, Cummins said, and 22,300 higher than mid-February 1956.

Weekly earnings of factory workers averaged $88.70 as of Jan. 15, Cummins said.

The average was a drop from the $89.59 of mid-December, he said, and represented the shortening of the work week from 41.4 hours to 40.7 hours in mid-January.

However, the average hourly earnings increased 2 cents in the period, from $2.16 to $2.18.

Nationally, the weekly average earnings in manufacturing stood at $82.41 at mid-January with a 40.2 hour week and an average of $2.05 an hour.

Explosion Rips Ford Plant; One Dead, 25 Hurt

DETROIT (AP)—An explosion ripped through a huge paint-drying oven at the Ford Motor Company's Rouge plant late Monday night, fatally injuring 1 worker and burning 25 others, 5 critically.

John Goodwin, 56, an inspector in the frame plant, died today at Henry Ford hospital of burns suffered in the blast, which rocked the giant plant in suburban Dearborn.

About 2,000 employees were in the plant when the blast occurred. It wrecked the paint-drying oven and part of a conveyor line and blew out a section of the building wall. The explosion was followed by a fire which was quickly put out by company firemen.

Some of the injured men were working atop catwalk platforms near the oven when the blast occurred, hurling the workers to the ground. Several were burned and one fireman was overcome by smoke.

The oven in which the blast occurred is used to dry paint on auto body frames. The blast was believed to have originated in a paint drain tank running beneath the giant oven.

Ford officials said fire damage to the building was minor compared with the damage caused by the explosion. Production was not disrupted, according to a company spokesman.

BUFFALO GRASS

By Frank Gruber

Copyright 1956 by Frank Gruber. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: A movement has started to form a city government in the cow trail town of Pawnee City to bring law and order. Joe Jagger, one of the founders, refuses to go along with the idea. Chad Morgan listens, but leaves the meeting when he is asked to keep the proceedings secret.

XVIII

Jagger was in the Drovers Hotel, chewing an unlighted cigar, when Morgan entered. "I didn't stay," "What do you mean, you didn't stay?" growled Jagger. "You were still there when I left." "They wanted me to keep confidential anything they said. I didn't feel that I could do that." Jagger gave Morgan an odd look. "You're a queer duck, sometimes. Confidential . . . ha!" He took out a match, lighted the cigar.

"I think they are going to form a town government." "They wouldn't dare." "Don't count on that." "But they can't start a government, Chad. The two of us own this town. We'd be fools to let them say so-and-so's mayor, so-and-so's judge."

"Are you sure, Joe? We did own it. But we sold a lot of property. The merchants came in, they brought in workers. If it came to a vote, we'd be swamped." "Isn't that the way people are elected to office?" "How should I know? I'm no lawyer," Jagger grunted. "You were going to study law. I never had any use for lawyers and that's one thing we can do without in this town. Let's see what Helen's got to say about this government business."

Helen Jagger had already heard them in the lobby and was coming out of the office toward them. "Helen," began Jagger, "Chad and me've just been to a little meeting up the street."

Helen looked at him sharply, then suddenly shifted to Chad Morgan. "I don't understand."

"The merchants objected to what happened yesterday," said Morgan. "They want law and order in Pawnee City."

"Nobody got hurt yesterday," growled Jagger. "Nobody's going to get hurt."

"Tom Alder killed a man night before last," reminded Morgan.

"That was a fight—a fair fight." "Two men were killed the day the first herd came into town," Morgan went on. "One of them was lynched by a mob."

"Whose side are you on, anyway?"

Morgan stiffened. "You've asked me that before. I'm on the side of what's right. This isn't your town any more, Joe."

"Your town?" snapped Jagger. "Our town!"

"You keep saying it's your town."

"A man can't think of what he's saying every minute," snorted Jagger. "All right, Pawnee City was my idea. But we've been partners from the moment I told you about it. All the money that's come in is ours. Fifty-fifty, even Stephen. You can go into the bank any time and help yourself to half of what-ever's there."

"I can't, Joe. I may not be a lawyer, but I know that much. The bank money isn't ours."

"Why not? It's our bank."

"The money belongs to the depositors. Except perhaps the amount we put in to start things."

A sudden frown came over Jagger's face and Morgan looked sharply at his partner. "It's still there, isn't it?"

Jagger's response was almost too quick. "Oh, sure, sure!"

"Our financial position is excellent," Helen Jagger added. "Our original debt will soon be liquidated, and—"

"What original debt?" asked Morgan.

"The fifty-some thousand we spent that we didn't have last spring," Jagger growled. "I told you we went into the hole."

"I thought that had been paid off."

"We've been paying it. It's down around thirty thousand now."

Morgan looked at Jagger, then at Helen. "Just what is our financial position right now?"

"You can look at the books any time," replied Helen with a note of acerbity. "I'll be glad to explain things to you."

Jagger said nastily, "Let's stick to the subject—this town-government business. I don't like your attitude about it."

"I don't like yours, Joe," Morgan suddenly flared back. "I've listened to you talk about your town, your hotel, your bank, your this and that. I haven't said anything. But I'm saying it now. I'm fed up."

Helen sprang forward, caught Morgan's arm and tried to turn him away from her brother. "Chad, don't—don't do something we'll all be sorry for—" She tugged at him. "Please . . . for my sake . . ."

"There were tears in her eyes and she was sobbing. "Don't, Chad, please . . . for me."

And Chad Morgan let himself be pulled away.

They were at the door before he was able to disengage her grip on him.

"All right, Helen," he said. "It's over."

But Helen, seeing her brother following them toward the door, gave Morgan a sudden push that almost knocked him off balance. "I'll talk to you later!" she cried and whirling, rushed toward her brother.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dietzenbacher, D.D.

(Written for NEA Service)

Every now and then we go without a meal. The body does not seem to miss a single meal, but if one goes without food for several meals, the body begins to suffer. It consumes itself. It wastes away.

When this diminution of food is coupled with illness, the body suffers even more. It grows thinner. It loses its vitality, its color, and its normal way of living. To bring the body back to health, we take medicine, vitamins, tonics and special foods.

The soul, too, becomes hungry when it does not have its spiritual needs fulfilled. When the spirit is sick, it wastes away and becomes sluggish. It worries the mind, and nags the body.

God alone can nourish the hungry soul. He alone can cure sin and spiritual suffering. We must turn to Him for diagnosis and cure.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONALD, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONALD's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONALD's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONALD is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONALD neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONALD exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONALD, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

"If she is unbelievably happy at 7:00 A. M. every morning, I now hold her 1957 Ford responsible. If she is off for the day at 7:02 A. M., I suggest that it is the power of Ford's Thunderbird V-8 engine. If she appears vastly more style-conscious, it is the longer, lower lines of her new kind of Ford that have made her so."

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new 'Inner Ford.' If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be?"

"And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Fords for years! Sure, we're a two-Ford family now. ## File Charges Against Rep. C. W. Clabaugh

SPRINGFIELD — State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman today filed an information charging State Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh with a violation of the state "conflict of interest" law involving an $890 contract for security screens at Anna State Hospital.

Ackerman filed the information in Circuit Court after Clabaugh, a Champaign Republican, waived indictment by a grand jury.

He said Clabaugh also agreed to a stipulation of agreement on "most of the facts in the case." This leaves to be determined in court, Ackerman said, only whether Clabaugh actually had a contract with the state hospital.

"He says he didn't have a contract and we say he did have one," Ackerman said.

The case involves an alleged $890 contract held by Clabaugh's Champaign Weather Strip Co. with Anna State Hospital for window screening at the hospital.

'Quite A Guy', Motorist Says of Sen. McCarthy

CHICAGO — Ralph Vanston, 61, has decided that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is "quite a guy."

Vanston, who terms himself an independent Democrat, told Monday how McCarthy helped rescue him from his wrecked car. He was pinned beneath the car Sunday when it overturned in suburban Highland Park.

Gasoline was spilling over his face, Vanston said, and "I was afraid there'd be an explosion."

"This guy came up and took charge," Vanston continued. "He flagged down motorists to help, then took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and helped lift the car off me."

After Vanston was freed, Otis Gomillion, Milwaukee, who was driving the senator, introduced McCarthy to the motorist. The disbelieving Vanston told Gomillion if his rescuer was McCarthy, then "I'm Napoleon."

Mediators Assume Jurisdiction in NYC-Union Dispute

CLEVELAND — The National Mediation Board today took jurisdiction in a dispute between the New York Central System and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, eliminating any immediate possibility of a strike.

The board said that a mediator will be appointed and that negotiations will be scheduled soon—probably later today.

Paint Peeling Off Illinois Auto License Plates

SPRINGFIELD — Increasing numbers of Illinois motorists today were complaining about the paint on their 1957 license plates, or rather the lack of it.

The secretary of state's office here reported nearly 140 complaints had been received of the red paint peeling off the new plates, with more coming in all the time.

C. E. Nelson, chief of the secretary's automobile department, said the complaints began about three weeks ago, shortly after a heavy rainstorm. Motorists complained the paint was disappearing from the front surface of the front license plate.

Meanwhile A. B. Scott, vice president of Hemp & Co., Macomb, the firm which manufactures Illinois' license plates, said two independent testing laboratories have been testing the plates to find out what's wrong.

Expect More Reports

Nelson said motorists from Carbondale, Peoria and Alton sent in the most complaints. But a number of defective plates were observed here, too.

Nelson said no one was certain what was causing the paint to come off, but it might be salt used on the streets to melt ice during the winter. Heavy rains may have dissolved the salt, and splashed salt water on the plates.

Under the contract for which the plates were manufactured the Macomb firm will be required to replace faulty plates without cost to the state or to the motorists involved.

Scott said the trouble had been reported only on aluminum plates, that is the plates distributed downtown. Cook County plates and those made for special use vehicles are made of steel.

Korean Bonus Plan Approved By Senate Group

SPRINGFIELD — A 75-million-dollar Korean veterans bonus plan today had unanimous approval of the Senate Military Affairs Committee and went to the Appropriations Committee where similar smooth sailing was expected.

The House Monday, meanwhile, passed and sent to the governor a bill to appropriate $500,000 for the Health Department to purchase and distribute Salk polio vaccine.

Bills were introduced in the House to abolish the death penalty in Illinois and to create a permanent state crime investigating commission.

The Korean bonus plan would be financed with a 1 cent increase in the cigarette tax.

Sen. Paul Broyles (R-Mount Vernon) head of the legislative commission which drew up the bonus plan, said it would pay $10 a month to an estimated 296,000 veterans who served in the armed forces between June 27, 1950, and July 27, 1953.

In addition, a flat $100 payment would be made to about 60,000 holders of the Korean Service Medal, and $1,000 payments would be made to beneficiaries of about 3,000 Illinoisans who died in service.

Broyles estimated the $10 a month payments, at an average service period of 18 months, would cost about 53 million dollars, the Korean medal payment about 6 million dollars and the death payments about 3 million dollars.

This would come to about 62 of the proposed 75 million dollar bond issue to be used for interest payments on the bonds.

The bonus plan would be subject to a 1958 referendum. Broyles said the 1-cent tax increase would bring in about $10,200,000 a year, and thus the proposed ten year bonds could be retired in about eight years.

Anna Cage Coach Resigns

ANNA, Ill. — The Anna Jonesboro High School board has accepted the resignation of Basketball Coach Bob Lewis.

Lewis, cage coach the last four years, submitted his resignation to the board Monday night. He said he hopes to devote his full time to a math and science teaching job.

Two years ago a Lewis team ended Pinckneyville's 58-game winning streak on its home floor.

Principal Tim O'Brien said the school board is accepting applications for the basketball job and will name a successor at its April 15 meeting.

Egypt Eases Gaza Tension

By United Press

Egypt has assured the United States that it has no present plans to send troops into the Gaza Strip, along whose borders Israeli sources reported new minor violence today.

Cairo dispatches also reported that Egypt has assured the United Nations it has no intention of pushing the U. N. Emergency Force out of the disputed strip.

At the same time, Cairo has outlined its views on future Egyptian operation of the Suez Canal in a memorandum handed to representatives of the United States, the Soviet Union, India and the U. N.

The three moves eased the tension in the Mideast, where officials feared the minor Gaza border incidents might mushroom into major trouble.

Farmers to Reduce Acreage, But Expect to Produce Bumper Crop

WASHINGTON — American farmers this year are expected to produce a bumper crop on the smallest acreage in 40 years.

The Agriculture Department estimated Monday that on the basis of farmers' planting intentions as of March 1, this year's crop will be grown on 334 million acres—12 million acres or 3.5 per cent under the 1956 acreage which produced a record crop. In 1917 farmers planted 331 million, but produced a crop far off the 1956 total.

Department officials are not counting on a crop production comparable to the acreage reduction. Farmers have a way of increasing their yields on reduced acreage with better types of seed, improved fertilizer, and all-round advances in agricultural technology. They have proved it before, and may come up with a 1957 overall crop equal to or near the 1956 production.

Hauptmann Rites

Thursday 9 a. m.

grocery store for 25 years and since his retirement Mr. Hauptmann had spent 10 years in the real estate business. He was also interested in farming and his greatest interest was his love of people. His unending generosity to orphanages and orphans reflected his gratitude to the fine aunt who made a home filled with love for his childhood.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

The family has requested that his wishes be followed in omitting flowers. Those who wish to honor his memory may well do so by making contribution to some orphanage, carrying on his chosen philanthropy.

The active pallbearers for the funeral will be John Lockwood, James McKenna, John Molinarolo Sr., George Barnes Roy Lane and Arthur Debes. The inactive will be John Pickford, J. W. Wintzler, Harker Miley, Frank Gray, Charlie Skaggs and Stanley Wilson Sr.

The Rosary will be said Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral home where the body will lie in state until the time of the funeral.

The department reported prospective corn plantings this year at 74.4 million acres. If yields approximate the 1951-55 average, production would amount to 2.9 billion bushels.

The intended planted acreage is the smallest in 70 years, a long stretch dating back to President Cleveland's first term when the nation had about 100 million fewer persons to feed. But the prospective acreage for 1957 is only 5.3 per cent under the 1956 acreage when 3.5 billion bushels—the second largest crop in history—was produced. This whopping crop was grown on an acreage 11 per cent smaller than average.

The planting intentions report indicated that many farmers are reducing their acreage on such basic crops as corn, wheat, peanuts, rice, and tobacco, but are increasing the use of crop land for other crops. The latest department report on soil bank participation showed that about 20 million acres have been deposited in the soil bank acreage reserve and about 3.5 million acres have been put into the conservation reserve.

This adds up to about 23.5 million acres on which farmers will receive government payments for not producing crops. The soil bank acreage is almost double the 12 million acres they have indicated they will cut from the overall acreage total.

Cronin Admits Serious Red Sox Proposal

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — General Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox confirmed today that he made a "serious cash offer" of $1-million for Cleveland strikeout king Herb Score and bristled at a suggestion that the fabulous offer was a publicity stunt.
"I was and am definitely serious—certainly the offer was made in good faith," Cronin told skeptical reporters after General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians revealed he had rejected the deal. "I offered him $1-million for Score and told him to take the offer to the Indians' board of directors."

"Greenberg said he'd give me a ring," Cronin went on. "I didn't expect him to say anything about the offer. But, now that he has, it's true."
Hit Like Bomb-shell
Greenberg's statement hit the major league training sites like a bomb-shell and produced reaction ranging from stunned disbelief to statements like "Bill Veech is running the show" and "Cronin and Greenberg just dreamed that up to produce a headline." Even Boston fans conceded "a $1-million seems awful hard to believe."

But in Tucson, Ariz., Manager Kerby Farrell of the Indians told the United Press: "Mr. Greenberg did a very reasonable thing and I am glad he did. I would not trade Score for Mickey Mantle or Al Kaline."

Cronin and Greenberg had slightly different versions of exactly how the offer—four times the record amount ever paid for a major league player—was made.
Proposal Unfolds
"Greenberg and I sat down Monday and tried to work out every possible combination for a deal," said Cronin. "I finally said, 'I'm offering you $1-million for Score. Take that to your board of directors.' We didn't shake hands. Greenberg said he'd give me a ring."

"We were discussing another deal involving a pitcher," said Greenberg. "Finally Cronin said, 'I'd give a million dollars for a sure 20-game winner—a pitcher like Score.' I replied, 'Do you mean you would give me $1-million for Score?' and he said, 'Yes, I think I would.' I hesitated a moment and said, 'Well, I wouldn't take it.'"

Score, a 23-year old New York-born left-hander who got a $60,000 bonus to sign with Cleveland, set a record for a rookie by striking out 245 batters in 1955 and last season whiffed 263 while compiling a 20-9 record. His 1956 strikeout total was the highest in the majors since 1946 when Bob Feller fanned 348 and Hal Newhouser whiffed 275 and his two-year record of 508 strikeouts in 476 innings is unprecedented.

A rabbit's nest is called a "form."

Collinsville, Elgin Lead 16 Teams in Supers; Herrin, Mt. Vernon to Clash

Games Will Be Played Tonight At Eight Centers

By United Press
A trip to the finals at Champaign was the prize at stake tonight as unbeaten Collinsville and Elgin lead a class of "Sweet Sixteen" prep basketball teams in supersectional play at eight centers.

Top game tonight matches Elgin's second-ranked Maroons with a 26-0 record against Chicago Heights Bloom at Hinsdale. Bloom held down sixth spot in the ratings through most of the season and has a sparkling 27-1 record.

Elgin is led by 6-7 center Chuck Brandt and 6-4 guard Gary Kane. Bloom's sparkplug is 6-5 center Homer Thurman.

Top-ranked Collinsville, with a 31-0 season mark, is a heavy favorite to oust Charleston's Trojans at Salem. The Kahoks have two tall scoring titans in 6-7 center Terry Bethel and 6-5 forward Tom Jackson.

Charleston takes a 27-4 record into the game.

Galesburg, which used ball control tactics to edge favored Rock Island in the sectionals, takes on Freeport at Moline. The Silver Streaks are led by their All-State football twins, Albert and Elbert Kimbrough, and guard Bobby Hoffman, a flashy ball handling expert.

Herrin vs. Mount Vernon
Freeport's Pretzels, with a 14-10 record to compare with Galesburg's 22-6, have a balanced attack in George Hively, Jerry Hickman, Ron Richter, and Oather Taylor.

Pekin, which proved its strength in getting by such as Peoria Central and East Peoria in the regionals and sectionals, meets Ottawa at Peoria.
Pekin Coach Bob Cain has seven "regulars" he can juggle as will in his lineup. The Chinks hold a 24-4 record. Ottawa, with a 26-5 record, has a starting lineup that includes four juniors. Tallest man on the team is 6-4 center Ralph Lindman, same as Pekin's biggest man, Mike Mertens.

Herrin, which gained a lot of respect for its thumping triumph over Pinckneyville in the sectionals, tangles with surging Mount Vernon at West Frankfort.

The Tigers, who own a 27-2 record and were fifth in the ratings, are led by 6-4 center John Tidwell, and Jim Gaudin and Ivan Jefferson at the forwards.

Champaign vs. Maroa
Mount Vernon's Rams got off to a disappointing start this season and have only a 17-11 record, but they have been improving recently, enough so they were able to upset West Frankfort in the sectionals. Mount Vernon has a tall front line in forwards Don Neal, 6-4, and Jack Kotter, 6-6, and 6-5 center Don Williams.

At Springfield, Quincy Notre Dame with a 29-2 record collides with Springfield, 19-11. Springfield is paced by forwards Armand Le-crone and Paul Sangster, while Bill Kirs and John Flynn lead the Notre Dame attack.

Champaign (23-5) and Maroa (29-2) both of which survived close calls in the sectionals, will meet in the Decatur supersectional. Champaign squeaked by Rantoul in the last second to win its way into the Sweet Sixteen for the 21st time, more than any other school.

Guard John Easterbrook is the big gun in Champaign's attack. Guards Ken Chalcraft and Jim Brown are the key to Maroa's success.

At Evanston, Chicago Crane's Cougars take a 23-4 mark into the battle with Evanston, 21-3. Suburban League scoring champ, 6-1 Dave Temaine, is the key man for Evanston, while Crane, with only two seniors in the starting lineup, is led by 6-3 center Art Nichols.

Notre Dame to Expand Aid To Athletes

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame is expanding its aid program to athletes in order "to compete" in football, Coach Terry Brennan said today.

"We're going to have to have more boys on deals," he said, "with about the same number every year. We can't go on the way we have been."

Brennan opened spring practice Monday with about 65 players reporting. But it was the first year in history that Notre Dame was with out a "name" player at some position and also the first year that spring practice began without a quarterback of some reputation.

Athletic Director Moose Kraus confirmed that Brennan would be granted additional "deals" which at Notre Dame consist of room, board, tuition, books and laundry and no cash.

"We've always left it up to our coach to say how many they want," Kraus said. "If Terry wants 35 or 40 a year, he can have them. I'd say that's what he'd get each year now, somewhere between 35 and 40."

Nats Qualify To Meet Celtics In Eastern Finals

By United Press
The Minneapolis Lakers, who defeated the Fort Wayne Pistons in the first game of their best-of-three series, try for a clear sweep in Fort Wayne tonight and the right to meet the St. Louis Hawks in the final round of the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoffs.

The Syracuse Nationals qualified to meet the Boston Celtics, beginning Thursday night in Boston, in the Eastern Division's final round by defeating the Philadelphia Warriors two straight. The Nats wound up the series with the Warriors Monday night with a 91-80 victory.

Paced by Johnny Kerr's brilliant rebounding, the Nationals came to life in the second half to gain their win over the Warriors, who played all but one minute without high-scoring Paul Arizin, who was hampered by an injury.

Kerr corralled 26 rebounds and wound up the game's high scorer with 22 points.

WEBQ to Broadcast Herrin-Mount Vernon Game Tonight

Tonight's first round state tournament game to be played at West Frankfort and featuring Herrin and Mt. Vernon will be broadcast over radio station WEBQ.

The game is scheduled for 8 p. m. and the broadcast will start at 7:50, on both AM and FM, it has been announced.

The regular sportscasting team of Ken Hamilton and Elmer Gladson will be at the mike.

Dodgers are Happy Newcombe, Maglie, Podres Turn In Sparkling 8-1 Victory Over Tigers

By United Press
All this — and Johnny Podres too!

That was the reaction in the Brooklyn Dodgers' camp today after Manager Walt Alton's "big three of the mound" turned in a sparkling seven-hitter in Monday night's 8-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The game marked a successful spring debut for Don Newcombe, the big 27-game winner of last season, the finest showing yet by 40-year-old Sal Maglie and finally a splendid three-inning "cleanup" by Podres.

The New York Yankees continued to get the best all-around pitching on the Grapefruit circuit when Whitey Ford and Art Ditmar limited the Philadelphia Phillies to three hits in a 5-0 triumph. Ford yielded two singles in five innings and Ditmar a lone hit in the last four as the Yankees stretched their string of consecutive scoreless innings to 24.

Andy Pafko delivered his second, key late-inning homer in a few days to spark the Milwaukee Braves to a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Pafko blasted a three-run eighth-inning homer after the Braves rallied with three runs in the seventh to produce a 3-3 tie.

Jerry Lynch's triple, a walk, a single by Don Hoak and Gus Bell's infield roller produced two runs and gave the Cincinnati Redlegs a 7-6 win over the Boston Red Sox in 10 innings. The Red Sox tagged Joe Nuxhall for five runs but were stopped cold by Warren Hacker, who turned in his third straight strong job of the spring.

Yugoslavian Immigrant Family Celebrating American Success

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — A family of Yugoslavian immigrants is celebrating an American success story this month.

Pete Zavich, 44, is now baker for 42 southern Illinois towns.

And his elder son Vlado, who scarcely knew what a basketball looked like four years ago, is now a star high school basketball center.

Zavich left Selo Vratnica, Yugoslavia, March 12, 1939 to seek his fortune in America. He planned to send later for his wife, Joan, and their two young sons, Vlado and Vello. Vello was only 1-day-old when his father left.

Then World War II broke out. For five years, Zavich did not know whether his family was dead or alive.

Vello Was Detained

Meanwhile, he worked industri-ously as a baker in America, hoping that his family would survive the war. He had learned the baker's trade in Belgrade.

In 1943, Zavich bought a bakery at Valier, Ill., near West Frankfort, which he operated until 1952.

In 1945, Zavich heard from his wife. She and the boys were safe. Three years later, his wife and Vlado arrived in the United States.

Nine-year-old Vello was detained in Yugoslavia. "The government thought that by detaining him they would get us to come back to Yugoslavia," said Zavich.

But with the help of an attorney, the late U. S. Sen. C. Wayland Brooks and the State Department, Zavich related, young Vello nine months later was able to make the long plane trip alone. The Zavich family was together for the first time in almost 10 years.

In 1952, Zavich bought the Table Pride Bakery in West Frankfort with two partners. Two years later he became the sole owner, and now does business in 42 towns. How Old Is He?

Business is thriving, and now the most important problem to the Zaviches is Vlado's age. The 6-5, 195-pounder is a junior in West Frankfort high school. His passport lists his birthday as Aug. 18, 1937, which would make him 20 next August and thus ineligible for basketball in his senior year in school.

Zavich says that authorities made a mistake in preparing Vlado's passport. He said his son's real birth date was April 18, 1938.

Last summer, Zavich, his wife and their three young daughters SH RD:ust ETAO ETuAO E EEE visited in Yugoslavia. They attempted to find the record of Vlado's birth. But the church that had the record was destroyed in the war.

Zavich still hopes to establish Vlado's real age before the next school year starts.

The family spent only 30 of its allotted 120 days in Yugoslavia.

"Things have changed since the Communists took over," said Zavich.

One of his daughters had a birthday while they were in Yugoslavia. There were no presents and no cake. "You can't make a birthday cake out of corn flour," said Zavich.

"You just can't beat this country," said Zavich of his adopted land.

Morris Advised SIU Budget to Be $22.9 Million

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—D. W. Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, has been advised by Gov. William Stratton and the State Budgetary Commission that the school's operating budget for the next two years will be $22,902,139.

This is more than $8 million dollars over the current operating budget, but almost $3 million dollars less than the university asked, it was announced Monday.

The budget specifies $309,200 for residence centers in the Madison-St. Clair county area. The budget's biggest item is $16,085,243 for personal services, which includes salaries.

Every morning, city crews sweep vacuum and bulldoze the six miles of public beach at Hollywood, Florida.

How Texas Eastern does a sweet job for Necco

Making hard candy is no soft job. It takes carefully controlled heat—from mixing kettle right through to cutting machine—to make it cut right, look right and taste good.

That's one reason why New England Confectionery Company, in its Cambridge, Mass., candy kitchens, uses natural gas—transported via Texas Eastern pipelines from the Southwest. Natural gas heat is easily controlled—and clean, uniform and immediate, too. Texas Eastern makes natural gas abundantly available to homes and industries in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard areas.
